Why acrylic?

Acrylic is a modern material that has an understated elegant appeal.

It can be machined into many different shapes and supplied with either a highly polished or frosted finish or a combination of both.

Awards can be printed digitally or screened and either on the surface or inside. This flexibility is particularly useful if, for instance, a number of sponsors logos need to be included.

Tombstones

We are renown for our high quality and fast turnaround times. Our record is 48 hours from typesetting, printing, manufacturing 50 tombstones and delivering them to the City Airport for a flight to Geneva for a signing ceremony the same evening.

We prefer a more leisurely schedule but when the chips are down we can be relied upon to perform.

Bespoke

Need something unusual?

In addition to our staple diet of awards, plaques and tombstones we encapsulate all manner of products from automotive components, healthcare products, cosmetic and perfumery bottles, bullets and baton rounds, PCBs and computer chips.

Encapsulating currency for the banks is regular work for us but Ulster Bank had something unusual for us to do. They had produced a special edition £5 note to commemorate the anniversary of George Best's 60th birthday and they wanted a thousand encapsulated in cast acrylic.

The inset shows the note with the serial number of George's actual birthday which will no doubt be worth a great deal in years to come.
